Standard & Poor's (S&P) has lowered its credit rating for Saudi Arabia from 'BBB+' to 'BBB'. The move comes as Saudi Arabia's economic growth is projected to slow down in 2021. Standard and Poors said the downgrade reflects the country's high debt levels and the impact of the global economic recovery. The rating is the lowest since 2014. Saudi Arabia's credit rating is a key factor for investors and lenders. The downgrade could increase the cost of borrowing for the country. Saudi Arabia's government has been working to diversify its economy away from oil. The downgrade is a challenge for the country's economic growth.
